Who Should Attend
This program has been designed to be of interest to neonatologists, pediatricians, physician assistants, neonatal nurse practitioners, nutritionists, neonatology fellows, pediatric residents and lactation consultants whose practice involves the delivery of care to preterm infants.

About the Symposium
Every year in the United States preterm delivery affects 1 in every 10 births, or approximately 400,000 births each year. The care of this very vulnerable population of infants has become exceedingly more complicated as survival rates improve.

The symposium will provide comprehensive update on the nutritional and pulmonary advances for premature infant and provide current evidence-based topics covering issues such as neonatal seizures, benefits of caffeine therapy, effects of early nutrition on long-term neurodevelopment and life after HIE.

Learning Objectives
At the conclusion of this conference, participants should be able to:
• Discuss new horizons for the treatment of neonatal seizures
• Review the special nutritional needs of the surgical neonate
• Discuss the effects of nutrition versus sedation on lung and brain outcomes in the lamb model.
• Review the effects of pressure vs volume ventilation in the neonate
• Discuss advantages of caffeine therapy in the preterm neonate.
• Discuss steps to standardize human milk nutrition in the NICU.
• Review current evidence in the treatment of BPD
• Discuss nutritional strategies in the growth restricted preterm infant.
