BENEFITS

- Tuition for the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology (AFIP) radiologic pathology course in Washington DC, and a $2500 housing allowance.
- Board review courses will be financially supported.
- Additional funding for resident travel to conferences to present findings of their original research.
- 20 days vacation/sick time each year, not including time for presentation of research, or the above mentioned review courses.
- Internal moonlighting opportunities may be available for qualified residents at the appropriate academic levels.
- Meal allowance for on call service.
- Dedicated Radiology Library and learning resource center accessible to residents 24 hours per day. Funds are allocated yearly for acquisition of new textbooks and materials for the Radiology Education Center.
- Albany Medical College Schaeffer Library with on-line full text access to most major medical journals accessible from computers throughout the medical center.