Course Description
This hands-on conference aims to discuss current pulmonary issues including COPD, asthma, sarcoidosis, pulmonary hypertension, lung cancer screening and clinical scenarios among other topics. The faculty includes national and international experts in several of these fields. We will be discussing new therapies and addressing current controversies in current practice.

Objectives
After participating in this symposium, the learner should be able to:
• Identify the basics for diagnosing COPD.
• Be familiar with the treatment options in COPD.
• Be familiar with the national Asthma Guidelines.
• Be familiar with the diagnostic approach to sarcoidosis.
• Be familiar with the different clinical presentations of sarcoidosis.
• Describe the basic approach to the treatment of cystic fibrosis.
• Explain the general approach to screening for lung cancer, including the role of smoking history and population that should be screened.

Target Audience
The course will benefit general practitioners, internists, family medicine physicians, allergists, pulmonologists, respiratory therapists, nurses – including critical care nurses, and pharmacists.

Acknowledgement
We gratefully acknowledge and express our sincere appreciation to all those who generously support this educational opportunity. A complete list of contributors will be provided at the conference.

Online Syllabus
The syllabus will be available online shortly before and after the conference. In order to receive access to the syllabus material, you must provide your e-mail address on the registration form. You will receive access code via e-mail to access the syllabus. If you do not receive access information, please call the Albany Medical College Office of Continuing Medical Education at (518) 262-9628. In an effort to be environmentally conscious, printed lecture material will not be available at the Symposium.

Confirmation
Confirmation reminders will be mailed to all registrants. If you do not receive a confirmation of your registration prior to the event, call Albany Medical College Office of Continuing Medical Education (518-262-9628) to verify that your registration has been received.
