Liva Jacoby, PhD, MPH, Poster Presentation

AMBI Faculty, Liva Jacoby, PhD, MPH, presented a poster entitled "The impact of a clinical hospice rotation - perspectives of 3rd year medical students" at the annual meeting of the Association of American Medical Colleges in Washington, D.C.

The data described on the poster is derived from a qualitative analysis of more than 100 essays students completed at the end of their required rotation. Their task was to reflect on and recount the most valuable lessons they learned during their one week experience with palliative care. The results of our analysis provide evidence of the powerful cognitive and emotional impact that this learning experience has on students.
