Course Description
This conference will review the latest concepts in the management of ischemic stroke. The goal is to provide the practitioner with knowledge of accurate diagnosis and treatment of ischemic stroke, including treatment options for both primary and secondary stroke prevention. Case presentations will review individual patient assessment and decision for treatment, emphasizing the latest evidence-based advanced treatments.

A nursing breakout session will be held in the afternoon with Allison Goodell, RN, MS, ACNS-BC, CNRN discussing stroke symptoms in the hospitalized patient. This course will meet 50% of the annual stroke education requirement for practitioners and clinicians at New York State Certified Primary Stroke Centers.

Target Audience
This course is designed for primary care physician, emergency medicine physicians, neurologists, neurosurgeons, radiologists, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, occupational and physical therapists and EMS providers. Interested allied health providers are welcome to attend.

Objectives
Upon completion of this course participants will be able to:

• Describe the risk factors and mechanisms of ischemic and hemorrhagic stroke.
• Summarize important primary and secondary stroke prevention strategies.
• Describe the diagnostic and therapeutic approach to stroke in the pediatric population.
• Describe the approach to rehabilitation of the stroke patient.
• Recognize and describe stroke symptoms in the hospitalized patient.

Accreditation
Physician: The Albany Medical College is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to sponsor continuing medical education for physicians.
